

Pet Rescue/Recovery Masks aPaws

Fundraiser

WHAT THEY ARE

Surgivet Animal Oxygen Recovery Masks are used primarily in veterinary hospitals throughout the country for anesthesia and resuscitation of pets of all sizes. In an effort to get these masks to local fire departments for on-site rescues, aPaws (Association of Professional Animal Waste Specialists) has chosen to devote our fundraising efforts to equipping fire trucks across the country with these masks.

These types of masks are usually not vital enough to be purchased with tax dollars for the fire trucks, so aPaws decided to buy the masks and donate them. With these masks on board, pet resuscitation is easier and more likely to happen.

FOR LOCAL AND NATIONAL FIRE DEPARTMENTS

Each set of masks comes with three different sizes and costs $65 or two sets for $120.

Any amount donated is appreciated. Donations are not tax deductible - aPaws is a 501c6 Not For Profit Trade Organization and not a charitable organization, but all proceeds are used for the purchase of these masks.
